

Legal notice

Use of this website (hereinafter the “Website”) is governed by Luxembourg regulations and the terms and conditions outlined below. By continuing to browse this website, you thereby accept these contractual terms and conditions.

Identification

Business Woman of the Year is a Banque Internationale à Luxembourg SA brand, having its registered office at 69 Route d’Esch, L-2953 Luxembourg, registered in the Luxembourg Trade and Companies Register under number B-6307 (hereinafter the “Bank”). The Bank is a credit institution approved in Luxembourg by the CSSF.

Information

The information published on the Website, whether of a general or specific nature, is provided as an indication only. This information is published without any guarantee as to its being exhaustive, accurate or up to date and may come from external service providers. Except in the event of fraud or gross misconduct, the Bank may not be held liable by the user for this information or the direct or indirect consequences of using said information.

Links to third-party websites

The Bank’s Website may contain links to websites of third parties that are not under the Bank’s control. Certain links are provided purely for convenience, and their inclusion does not imply endorsement of the website linked by the Bank. The Bank will accept no liability with regard to the content, services, products or material offered by websites linked to the Bank’s Website.

No links to the Website may be set up without the Bank’s prior consent. Links to the Bank’s Website using framing and/or deep-linking are prohibited. The Bank shall under no circumstances be held liable for links made to its Website.

Copyright

The Bank owns the trademarks, logos and other elements used on the Website, with the exception of the trademarks and logos of the Business Woman of the Year award partners.

Any full or partial translation, adaptation or reproduction by any means and in any country is prohibited without the Bank’s consent.

Liability

Users hereby accept that any access to the Website or any use thereof fall under their sole responsibility. The Bank shall not be held liable for any direct or indirect loss that may arise through use of the Website, particularly with regard to any interruption, downtime or malfunction of the Website that may arise, and more specifically from maintenance downtime or from upgrades to the Bank’s

IT system, technical failures or network overload, telephone line failures, errors, negligence or failures by internet service providers, by a third party or from a virus from the internet.

Luxembourg laws and courts

Subject to Luxembourg law.

Users are informed that Luxembourg courts have sole jurisdiction to hear any disputes relating to the use or interpretation of information and data presented on this Website.